Join the AES in Rome

AES comes to Rome in May 2013 for its 134th International Convention, the latest in its 65 years of leadership in the professional audio community. Come listen, learn, and connect with your peers, customers, and mentors on a variety of important topics.

Arguably the birthplace of engineering, Rome provides a rich and historic setting for the world's top audio professionals to come together and share the latest advances in audio research and practice.

It's nearly here! @AESorg Show starts in two weeks, and we can't wait to nerd out with fellow pro audio friends. We'll be at booth 336 along with all the Hear gear to try out hands on.

See you in NYC!#proaudio #audioengineer
